

A MESSAGE TO THE UMMAH OF PROPHET MUHAMMED (SAW)

In the name of Allah, the Most Merciful and the Most Gracious,

Who never constricted our provisions and made the world more than spacious.

Oh followers of Prophet Muhammad (SAW), I ask you to hold on to these three commands.

If Allah wills, by doing so, you may enter Jannah hand in hand.

The first command is to love Allah as if He is directly in your sight.

Have the utmost faith in Him, trusting that He will shine a way for you, even in the darkest of nights.

A MESSAGE TO THE UMMAH OF PROPHET MUHAMMED (SAW)

• He created the heavens and made for you the earth.

He made it clear that you are seventy times more beloved to Him than by your own mother at birth.

Everything was measured, proportioned, and divinely placed.

Everything you needed was given to you out of His heavenly grace.

The second command is to follow the full, beautiful moon on a dark desert night—

The best of mankind and an excellent guide.

He cared for the orphans, looked out for the poor, and ensured no one was left empty-handed when they came knocking at his door.

He was a walking Qur'an, practicing what he preached.

Please take him as your guide, for his footsteps are always within your reach.

The last command may seem easy to the ears,
But it requires perseverance through the years.

Reflect on your daily life and take account of your sins.
Little by little, seek repentance, hoping that you may win.

You are not perfect, and that is okay. Put your trust in Allah and ask Him to guide you in the right way.
